General Advice Warning

Investment involves risk. You should carefully consider whether any investment product or service mentioned herein is appropriate for you in view of your personal circumstances including financial position, investment experience, and investment objectives. Past performance does not guarantee future results. Investors should review the product details and associated risks carefully before making any investment decision and should seek independent professional advice when necessary. The price of investment products may increase or decrease, and losses may occur just as profits may be made through buying and selling investment products.

Warning: Risks of Trading Contracts for Difference (CFDs)

Contracts for Difference (CFDs) are complex instruments and involve a high risk of losing money rapidly due to leverage. You may be required to make further deposits to meet margin requirements. You should consider whether you understand how CFDs work and whether you can afford the risks involved. CFD prices may fluctuate, rise or fall, or in some cases may even become worthless. Risks are inherent in CFD trading, and sometimes you may incur losses instead of gains. GOC Prime employees cannot guarantee the accuracy of any market predictions (if such predictions are provided), nor can they guarantee the maximum potential loss you may face. Each type of product carries different risks depending on its structure and characteristics. Therefore, clients are advised to understand the features of the product thoroughly before investing and to seek professional advice when necessary.

Warning: Internet Trading Risks

Due to the nature of internet trading and the inherent risks of technology, conducting transactions or communication via the internet may involve interruptions, cancellations, or delays in data transmission due to various factors, or errors may occur due to the public nature of the internet or other reasons.

When trading through an electronic system, clients must accept the risks associated with such systems, including hardware or software failures. In the event of a system failure, client orders may not be executed as intended or may not be executed at all.

Clients should ensure that their devices are equipped with sufficient software and hardware to protect their online transaction data from being stolen or leaked due to malware or virus intrusions.
